HODGES APPEARS BEFORE PROBERS

Republican Campaign Fund Totals $1,714,000, He Says.

ALSO DETAILS EXPENDITURES

No Single Contributions Over $25,000, the Republican National Treasurer Says—Western Manager for the Democrats and Chairman Nelson For Independents Also Quizzed by the Senate Committee.

Chicago, Oct. 17.—At the investigation being conducted by the special senate committee it was revealed that the campaign fund of the Republican party on Oct. 10 totaled $1,714,000.

It was also disclosed that the La Follette-Wheeler campaign fund on Oct. 10 totaled $190,535.36. No information was available on the national fund of the Democratic party. Lincoln Dixon, western manager for the Democrats, testified that he had received a total of $32,500 from New York and Washington headquarters of the party.

W. V. Hodges, national treasurer for the Republican party, appearing for William M. Butler, national chairman, said that no single contributions over $25,000 had been received. The biggest item of expense, Hodges said, was $437,000 for publicity. Expenditures by the labor bureau total $46,000, speakers' bureau expenditures totaled $105,000, the negro bureau had spent $36,000, while the women's bureau expenses totaled $19,000.

Expenses for administration total $213,987, and the speakers' bureau totaled $105,000. The senatorial campaign committee totaled $80,500, and the congressional committee $57,000. Hodges said William Wrigley, Jr., the chewing gum king, contributed $25,000.

"Is that the only contribution of that size?" Senator Borah asked. "No, I said that was the only name I could think of at this time."

Borah asked whether there were any "split contributions" to cover up individual contributions of more than $25,000 and up to $50,000. "No," answered Hodges emphatically, "I certainly don't know of any."

Big Contributors. Hodges presented the following list of persons who contributed $10,000 or more to the Republican fund:

B. A. Eckhart, Chicago, assistant treasurer of the Republican committee, wealthy miller; Arthur W. Cullen, Glen Ellen, Ill., who recently was credited with winning between $1,000,000 and $4,000,000 on the Chicago board of trade in the rise of grain prices; A. W. Harris, investment banker of Chicago; General Charles G. Dawes, vice presidential candidate on the Republican ticket; H. F. Knight of St. Louis, and A. E. Carlton of Colorado Springs.

At this point Hodges explained that these were the only $10,000 contributions made through the Chicago office of the party.

The $20,000 contributors through the Chicago office were: Union League club of Philadelphia and Horace C. Jones, Philadelphia.

Hodges said that the Cook county committee paid $25,000, but this sum is to be repaid later. J. R. Grundy of Bristol, Pa., advanced $50,000 to the fund, all of which has been repaid. Hodges said, explaining that Grundy was to raise $100,000 in Pennsylvania toward the campaign. Hodges explained that an early estimate of the requirements for the national senatorial and congressional campaigns totaled $3,000,000 and that quotas were assigned for each state.

Lincoln Dixon, western manager for the Democrats, first witness called by Senator Borah of Idaho, chairman, stated that he had received a total of $32,500. Of that sum, George Brennan, Democratic boss of Illinois, contributed $5,000, Dixon declared. The balance of the sum came in checks from Democratic headquarters in Washington and New York, Dixon said.

Dixon declared he did not know the manner in which James W. Gerard, national treasurer for the Democrats, financed the national campaign. He stated, however, that he knew the speakers received no compensation, that only their expenses were paid.

Campaign fund of the La Follette-Wheeler committee totaled $190,535.36 on Oct. 10, Chairman Nelson told the probers. Of that sum there remains a total of $35,472, Nelson said. Contributions made through the Chicago office total $104,744. The auxiliary office at Washington collected a total of $182,990, Nelson testified. Approximately 72,000 persons have contributed to the La Follette-Wheeler campaign. The vast majority of the contributions were dollar contributions, Nelson declared. The biggest single contribution totaled $23,000, and this sum was received from W. C. Rawley, national treasurer of the La Follette-Wheeler campaign.

D. N. D. NAHLY'S CHARGE

Utilities Commissioners Poor and Mautler Issue Statement.

Columbus, Oct. 17.—George T. Poor of Cincinnati and Frank Mautler of Chillicothe, Republican members of the public utilities commission, hit back at Governor Donahey for his charge that the commission's order for statewide investigation of the telephone situation is a political maneuver. "The commission emphatically denies that any political consideration affected its decision," their statement declared. Since Donahey has been governor, the statement added, he has failed to give the commission any "guidance or helpful suggestion," and never communicated or discussed with the commission his proposal, made last March, for a statewide telephone probe.

Poor and Mautler were appointed to the commission by Harry L. Davis when he was governor.

FOREIGN QUARTERS HELD IN NO DANGER

Thousands of Leaderless Soldiers Menace Shanghai.

Shanghai, China, Oct. 17.—Foreign settlements here are not believed to be in danger. The guards are said to be prepared to meet any eventuality. More than 25,000 armed men, representing the armies lately engaged in battle for possession of Shanghai, are ranging about those sections of the city adjoining the foreign concessions. Most of the soldiers are without leaders. Behind the barbed wire barricades that protect the foreign settlement are 6,500 allied foreign contingents, landed from various warships in Shanghai harbor, supported by 3,500 foreign, Chinese, Japanese, Sikh and Saigonese constabulary.

Troops of the former Chekiang province army, numbering about 15,000, are concentrated for the most part north and northwest of the settlements to the southward, adjacent to Lungwha, which was headquarters of Lu Yung Hsiang, Chekiang commander, before he surrendered the city and fled to Japan. The Chekiang concentration camps is immediately west of the settlement boundaries.

According to a dispatch received here, the landing of Chinese government troops at Chinwangtao was prevented by orders of the commander of the British garrison there, on the ground that such a landing would be incompatible with the protocol of 1901.

ADULT PROBATION ADVOCATED

Salary Increases for State Employees Also Favored.

WELFARE WORKERS' PROGRAM

Plans to Increase Facilities For Care of Feeble-Minded to Receive Support—Conference Also Indorses Move to Take Department of Welfare "Out of Politics"—Other Suggestions Advanced at the Meeting.

Columbus, Oct. 17.—Salary increases for employees of state institutions, support of plans to increase facilities for care of feeble-minded and indorsement of a proposed law to extend adult probation in Ohio, feature the program to be sponsored by the Ohio Welfare conference.

The conference is also expected to get behind the plan of the Ohio Library association to incorporate library facilities in all penal institutions and employ a traveling librarian to supervise the work. It is certain the organization will indorse the movement to take the department of welfare, and possibly also the department of health, "out of politics," as it has previously gone on record on this question.

Among numerous other suggestions which have been advanced are included substitution of a system of state farms for the present city-controlled workhouse plan and provision for employment of women at the Marysville reformatory, similar to the system now in vogue in penal institutions for men. The opinion seems to prevail that the Marysville situation will adjust itself, if the department of welfare can be divorced from politics, while as to the workhouse elimination project, it is doubted in many quarters if such a change could be accomplished at this time.

It is felt that many of the employees of state hospitals and penal institutions are grossly underpaid, a fact said to have been brought clearly to the attention of the public by the threatened strike of guards at the Ohio penitentiary, and the conference is expected to sanction a readjustment without opposing sentiment.

The program for the care of the feeble-minded, which is "likely to be indorsed, includes construction with further delay of two additional institutions, one in the northwest, the other in the southwest section of the state. It is possible also that a provision will be included urging creation of a separate institution or the addition of a new department at the Lancaster Boys' Industrial school for the care of delinquent defectives.

The plan of Dr. E. J. Emerick, head of the bureau of juvenile research, to district the state and employ more psychologists for extension of activities into fields where defectives may be reached before they have evinced anti-social tendencies, no doubt will be included in the program, as will also Dr. Emerick's recommendation of a new $100,000 psychopathic hospital.

CITY OFFICIAL'S CHARGE

Money Collected in Drive Did Not Go To Disabled Veterans.

Dayton, O., Oct. 17.—According to E. V. Stoecklein, city welfare director, only $169.49 of a fund of $8,873.24 collected in the 1923 forget-me-not campaign went to the disabled American veterans of the world war. Stoecklein recommended to City Manager Eichelberger that the application for permission to sell forget-me-nots on the streets of Dayton be disapproved. Stoecklein's report to the city manager was based upon an audit completed by Battelle & Battelle, certified public accountants, covering the period from July 17, 1923 to Nov. 20, 1923.

It was removed from a vault in a cemetery here on the night of Jan. 9 and taken away in a truck, it is alleged. REDS NOT FEARED BY JOHN W. DAVIS Nation's Future Not at Stake in This Campaign, He Says.

SPEAKS TO CROWDS IN ILLINOIS

Issue of the Constitution, the Democratic Nominee Says, Is "Merely a Smoke Screen to Cover the Mistakes of the Republican Administration"—Sees Plenty of Americanism in This Country, He Adds.

Chicago, Oct. 17.—In his speeches in this state, John W. Davis, the Democratic candidate for president, told his hearers that neither the future of his great government nor the constitution is at stake in this campaign.

Davis declared that the issue of the constitution is merely a "smoke screen raised by Republicans to cover the mistakes of the recent administration, which are the real issues."

"I do not believe Senator La Follette is going to carry the electoral college, and I don't believe we are seriously threatened with a two-thirds majority in both houses of congress that support him. Therefore, I decline to share the views of General Dawes and some others, who lie awake nights and ask their fellow citizens to join them for fear the reds will come from around the corner with a bomb in one hand and a dagger in the other to get them if they close their eyes for a single moment."

"There is plenty of Americanism in this country. We are discontented at times. We grumble a great deal. But the heart of the American people, and of this I am profoundly confident, is sound to the very core."

Mr. Davis spoke to crowds at many points in the Illinois corn belt. He delivered a set speech at Aurora, Ill. In Chicago the Democratic candidate delivered four addresses.

MAKES SHORT ADDRESS

Coolidge Receives Delegation of Foreign-Born Citizens.

Washington, Oct. 17.—President Coolidge told a delegation of foreign-born citizens that called at the white house that the United States can aid most in settling world troubles and in developing its own standard by continuing "as an example and a demonstration that peace, harmony, co-operation and a truly national patriotic sentiment may be established and perpetuated on an American scale."

"Those who cast their lot with this country can be true to the land of their origin only by first being true to America," he said. "We can be in a position to help only by unifying the American nation, building it up, making it strong, keeping it independent, using its inclination to help and discrimination to injure." Coolidge said three factors had made America able to assimilate various races and groups into a unified nation—"universal tolerance, our republican system of government and our system of universal free education."

Shoots Wife and Self.

Akron, O., Oct. 17.—Mike Kulsar and his wife, Julia, are expected to die as the result of bullet wounds following a domestic quarrel, in which Kulsar shot his wife twice, and, turning the gun on himself, fired five times. The quarrel was precipitated when their oldest son, Frank, 17, whom the father ordered away from home two days ago, returned to the house.

Giant Zeppelin ZR-3 Christened by Secretary of the Navy.

Washington, Oct. 17.—The ZR-3, giant airship, will be named "Los Angeles," as a recognition of the fact that the dirigible would be a "ship of peace," Secretary of the Navy Wilbur announced.

Dr. Hugo Eckener, commanding officer of the ZR-3, and three of the ranking German officers of the crew which brought over the airship, were presented to President Coolidge at the white house by Secretary Wilbur. President Coolidge repeated to them in person the congratulations he expressed in his telegram to Eckener upon the arrival of the ship. After the reception at the white house, the German officers and the American observers who made the transatlantic trip were entertained at luncheon by the secretary of the navy.

Dr. Alfred L. Hall-Quest, who divorced his wife in order that she could be free to marry Major Fredrick W. Hart of Evanston, Ill., resigned as director of extension at the University of Pittsburgh.

The annual canvass of manufactures of farm equipment places the value of the output at $364,701,537, as compared with $209,639,897 in 1922 and $328,040,783 in 1921. Manufacture of tractors showed a marked increase. There were 134,610 gas farm tractors and 620 steam farm tractor engines manufactured, with a value of $93,782,550. In 1922 that class of equipment was valued at $77,418,955, and in 1921 their value was only $14,681,512.

Cox on Young Roosevelt.

Richmond, Ind., Oct. 17.—In his speech here former Governor Cox of Ohio declared that in the state of New York the Republicans have nominated as their candidate for governor "the young messenger boy, who, as assistant secretary of the navy, did the chores for the conspirators when the government was being robbed, and who turned over the United States marines for police duty at public expense to protect the loot of Doheny and Sinclair."

FOUND NOT GUILTY

Former Sheriff Holycross Acquitted in Justice's Court.

Columbus, Oct. 17.—Former Sheriff Frank L. Holycross was found not guilty by Justice Kuhn of Bexley of charges brought by the state prohibition department accusing the former county official of illegally possessing and transporting liquor. Kuhn's decision, announced immediately after counsel for the state and defense had argued for an hour, was greeted with cheers by the audience which crowded the little courtroom in Bexley. Kuhn indicated that he based his decision upon the fact that the state had not shown Holycross in the act of possessing or transporting liquor. The defendant alleged he was the victim of a "frame-up."

Aviators Killed.

San Diego, Cal., Oct. 17.—Two fliers were killed and another narrowly escaped death in an airplane collision over Coronado. Lieutenant Kerr met instant death and the second pilot, when taken from the wreckage, could not be identified.

"Now children," said the teacher, "I want you to understand that the time to ask questions is whenever anything is said which you wish explained. Do not wait until I have finished, and then tell me you 'did not hear,' or, 'did not understand,' when I talked to you."
The children replied: "Yes, ma'am!" in chorus.

New Refrigeration Idea

Freezing with carbon dioxide is a new method of fish refrigeration being tested at the Atlantic biological station in Canada, according to reports received by the American Chemical society. The use of solid carbon dioxide. It is asserted, has several advantages. The lowering of temperature by this means retards spoiling, and the cooling can be controlled within wide limits. The carbon dioxide also excludes the air while the penetration of the juices of the fish by carbon dioxide gas has an additional preservative effect. Weight for weight solid carbon dioxide has twice the cooling power of artificial ice, and it is believed that the cost of production can be kept down to about the same figure.

Reassured

News had reached the village of Forksville that a motor-bus plying between the two neighboring towns of Bumpston and Gush Hollow had gone over the side of a cliff with all on board. It was also known in Forksville that the wife of the much henpecked Bud Blodgett was en route to Gush Hollow via the bus line. An interested villager immediately called on Bud.

"Ain't ye worried 'bout yer wife, Bud?" he asked.

"Well," replied Bud, "I was fer a while, but her cousin in Bumpston jest called up an' said she saw Sal git on the bus with her own eyes."—American Legion Weekly.

Pine Leaf Paper.

It has been estimated that if the immense waste were eliminated, the daily output of the long-leaf pine industry would be 4,000 tons of paper, 1,000 tons of rosin, 300,000 gallons of turpentine, and 600,000 gallons of ethyl.

How to test your feet—

1. Foot in natural position on floor.

2. Foot as in ordinary shoe. Lift heel to this position by stack (1 1/2 inches) of pamphlets or sheets of paper. Rest weight on foot and notice discomfort.

3. Foot on solid foundation; pamphlets pushed underneath arch of foot; no strain—no discomfort. This shows how the Arch Preserver Shoe with its concealed built in arch bridge makes a solid foundation under the entire foot eliminating practically all foot trouble.

John H. Thomas, after 21 years service as superintendent of National cemeteries, retires at age of 78 and returns to his former home at Ashville. His last service was at the Stone River national cemetery at Murfreesboro, Tennessee.

Mr. Thomas is well known to many of our people who are pleased that he is again at home in Pickaway county.

The letter from the war department to Mr. Thomas under date of August 20, 1923, says:

"Having passed the age of 78 years you are this date being retired at your own request under the provisions of the Retirement act of May 22, 1920.

"The records show that in addition to your service in the U. S. army from 1861 to 1865, you have served as superintendent of National cemeteries for more than twenty-one years, most of the time being superintendent at cemeteries under the jurisdiction of this office.

"The commanding officer desires that you be informed of his appreciation of your services and the manner in which you have performed your duties, and to express the hope that you may live to enjoy, for many years, the retirement which you have earned."

AMUSEMENTS

"The Dawn of a Tomorrow," a new George Melford production for Paramount, featuring Jacqueline Logan, David Torrence and Raymond Griffith was shown for the first time at the Met theater yesterday.

The story, by Frances Hodgson Burnett differs from, all other successful plays that have been pictured in that it underlines the importance of one's own intellectual attitude toward life and the effects of things unseen and only thought.

Miss Logan's role as the London waif, Glad, who makes things come right by the strength of her 'wishin' and 'arskin' we regard as one of the greatest attainments of her phenomenal career. There is an inner force about her acting that radiates her impersonation and makes it both strong and winning. In the scene in which she repels the advances of a daring degenerate and forces him to do her will merely by 'arskin' and 'arskin' the Unknown Power she blindly believes in to compel him, she reaches the height of her performance and grips her audience with genuine power. She has some very excellent assistance from Torrence and Griffith, the two other featured players and from several members of the supporting cast. Alma Bennett and Guy Oliver in particular.

CLUB MEETING

Presbyterian Men Addressed by Mayor James J. Thomas, of Columbus.

A most interesting session of the Presbyterian brotherhood was held Thursday evening in the club rooms of the church.

Mayor James J. Thomas, of Columbus, was the speaker of the evening and in a most entertaining way he told of some of the trials of the chief executive of a big city and of some of the accomplishments of the past few years. Fred C. Clark was the chairman of the committee and in well chosen words introduced the speaker.

A feature of the meeting was the music furnished by a quartet; Mrs. A. W. Holman, Miss Helen Marion, John Galleher and Mack Parrett, accompanied by Miss Abbe Clarke on the piano. Mr. Galleher also favored the audience with two solos. Both the quartet and the soloist responded graciously to generous encores. After the meeting refreshments were served.

SOCIAL CALENDAR

The marriage of Miss Erma Belle Hilbert, formerly of the administration department of White Cross hospital, Columbus, to Mr. Russell B. Hedges, of Ashville, took place at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning, October 15, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Hilbert, at Hicksville. The double ring ceremony was read by Rev. V. H. Allman, of the United Brethren church, Hicksville, and the bride's niece and nephew, Miss Leitha May Hook and Allen Richard Hilbert were ring bearers. Miss Carrie Helen Symons, whose engagement has been announced, but who has not set a date for her wedding played the wedding march for Miss Hilbert and the bridegroom's brother, Mr. Fred Hedges of Ashville sang. After November 1, the young couple will be at home at Ashville.

The announcement is made of the marriage of Mr. T. B. Work to Miss Lillian Reynolds, of Birmingham, Alabama, Saturday, September 20. The groom is a brother of Mrs. S. W. Miller and P. G. Work, of this county.

DAMAGE SUIT

Miss Elizabeth Jeffries Brings Action to Recover $5,000 for Injuries.

Miss Elizabeth Jeffries, of Columbus, has filed suit for $5,000 damages in the Franklin county common pleas court against John R. Gobey and Charles Cummings for injuries sustained on December 7, 1923, when the auto driven by Cummings and said to be owned by Gobey, struck her at High street and Tenth avenue, Columbus.

Miss Jeffries formerly resided in Ashville with her mother's family when a young woman. She is a sister of Mrs. E. M. Hines of Columbus, who accompanied her on the illfated day and who was also injured in the same accident from which she never fully recovered.

Miss Jeffries formerly resided in this city with Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Hines.

PIONEER RESIDENTS.

Dr. and Mrs. James Biggerstaff and son, John, and daughters, Mrs. Everett Printy and Miss Martha Biggerstaff, of Wabash, Indiana, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Murray. Mrs. Murray is a half sister to Dr. Biggerstaff. He was a former resident of Williamsport and his preceptor was the late Dr. T. F. White.

The Biggerstaff family were pioneer residents of this county and their forefathers lived in this city when the streets were in circles.

Small Things of Great Moment.

A piece of twine that fell into the steering gear of a trans-Atlantic liner cost the company $1,000,000 for repairs and delay. A word carelessly dropped will sometimes cost a life of regrets.

Not for the Garden

Land tortoises are often purchased by amateur gardeners under the mistaken impression that they will clear the garden of insect pests; they are really vegetarians with a special weakness for lettuce.

What "Cenotaph" Means.

The word is derived from the Greek words "kenos," meaning "empty" and "taphos," meaning "tomb." In other words, a cenotaph is a sepulchral monument erected in honor of a person whose body lies elsewhere.

HARGUS CULVERT

Finished Pouring Concrete Over East Half of Structure.

Watters & Freemas, contractors, finished pouring concrete over the new arch that spans Hargus creek Thursday night at ten o'clock. The contract entered into by the construction firm with the state called for a continuous pouring of concrete when the pouring began as this makes a more complete arch.

In twenty-eight days the arch will be ready to stand traffic. In the meantime the contractors will be busy on the wing walls of the arch.

Love Apples.

Love apples is what tomatoes were called years ago when it was told that, if sweethearts would divide one and eat it together, no adverse fate could part them. There was real bravery in this simple act; for, in early days, tomatoes were thought to be rank poison.

Bears Merely Playful

Bears in large numbers have been visiting Mackenzie park, near Bella Coola, British Columbia. Black bears and grizzlies, cubs, yearlings and adults were all on the road. They visited the wharf and post office, drank at the hot springs, sniffed about a salmon-smoking house and wrecked the ant dwellings of the locality. Their mission was as peaceful as that of human tourists. Not even the children were harmed.

Hen Nested in Tree

A hen in Lancaster county, Pennsylvania, selected a tree in which to lay her eggs and hatch a family. She belongs to Ephraim Newcomer of Glen Manor and she chose an apple tree in the orchard. Newcomer saw the hen fly out of the tree and, on making investigation, he found that the hen had made her nest in a decayed crotch, eight feet from the ground. There were ten chicks about four days old in the nest.

Discover Oil in France

A sample from a boring near Sundhausen, 20 or 25 miles south of Strasbourg, France, has been confirmed as petroliferous upon analysis by representatives of the University of Strasbourg and the ministry of public works. The well was drilled last February to provide water for farm use; the oily content appeared at the depth of five meters and persisted as the drilling was carried deeper. Means for exploitation are now being considered. The only petroleum source of any importance in France at present is the Pechelbronn field, north of Strasbourg.

Powerful Magnet

Visitors to the engineering section of the British empire exhibition being held at Wembley must take great care of their umbrellas and any other articles containing steel or iron, for one of the exhibits is a giant magnet weighing nearly 6,720 pounds. The magnet has several times stolen souvenirs from visitors. A woman carrying a handbag apparently of silver had it drawn from her grasp, and several umbrellas have been snatched from the hands of their owners. The magnet can lift 89,600 pounds of metal.

American Foods in China

If the American appetite seems to lean more heavily each year to chop suey and other Chinese foods, as is indicated by the increasing number of Chinese restaurants, it has a counterpart in China where American dried fruits, breakfast cereals and cigarettes are growing more in demand from the native Chinese. The increase in the demand for American food products there is so noticeable that the consular representatives have made official report on it.

DOUBLE-ENTRY IDEA OF WORLD'S HEALTH

Explanation of What Might Be Called Profit and Loss.

Virtually the dynamic address of Sir David C. Bruce before the British Association for the Advancement of Science in Toronto offers a double-entry account as between human health and modern civilization, in which the latter has both credits and debits.

Among the credits are bathtubs, saner living, shorter hours of work, serum safeguards against bacterial diseases, safe milk and water supplies, the X-ray and more efficient surgery. Among the debits are polished rice, whitened flour, tinned beef, tinned vegetables and the unrealized poisons incident to sewage disposal. Doctor Bruce, chairman of the governing board of the Lister Institute of Preventive Medicine, declared: "The untutored savage living on the natural fruits of the earth and the chase knows no deficiency disease."

Civilization, partly because of these debit items, has not been very successful in keeping down disease. According to Doctor Bruce, illness among insured working people in Britain represents idleness and economic loss equivalent to having 375,000 toilers out of work the year 'round. He figures the money loss there as $750,000,000 a year and the loss in the United States at $3,000,000,000 annually.

Science is discovering things all the time. We know something about the need of vitamins—what used to be called a "balanced diet" was an unconscious acknowledgment of their existence. We know something and may soon know more about the part that the glands play in human health and human growth. Most of us will agree with Sir David's conclusion: Medicine in future must change its strategy. Instead of awaiting attack it must assume the offensive. It must no longer be said, "the man was so sick that he had to call a doctor." But the philosopher will note that in this attitude of the "offensive" modernity will only be going back to Confucian common sense. The Chinaman pays a physician to keep him well and stops paying him if sickness comes. Psychologically that is a tremendous advantage.—Brooklyn Eagle.

May Reproduce Old Mill

The Philadelphia chapter of the Society of Colonial Dames of America has submitted to many organizations in Pennsylvania a plan to erect on the original site a replica of "The Old Swedes Mill," the first mechanical enterprise to be set up in that highly industrialized region, says the Interpreter. The original structure was built by direction of Governor Printz, in 1646, eight years after the first Swedish colonists arrived there. The stream on which the old mill stood, now known as Cobb's creek, flows through what is now the southwestern outskirts of Philadelphia. The proposed reproduction will be made a gift to the municipality.

With Pleasure!

Once when Mr. Tim Healy, governor general of the Irish Free State, was in Spain, he met Kipling, who, according to Mr. Healy, does not like him for political reasons. What happened at the meeting is told by the great Irishman himself:

"'Kipling,' I said, 'I suppose we can shake hands on neutral soil, although I would shake hands with you anywhere.'"

"'Haven't they shot you yet?' asked Kipling."

"'No, but when they do shoot me,' I replied, 'I would like you to write a dirge about me.'"

"'I'll be delighted,' said Kipling."

Coal in the Netherlands

Coal mining authorities in the Netherlands estimate that the mines now in operation or being opened there can produce 6,500,000 tons of coal in 1928, 8,000,000 in 1938 and 9,000,000 in 1948.

La Follette in Iowa.

Des Moines, Ia., Oct. 17.—Senator
Robert M. La Follette in a speech here, in the midst of the corn belt, scored the federal reserve board, saying it has "worked hand in glove with Wall street to exploit the farmer and producer." La Follette declared, if elected, he would make banking credit "the servant of the people rather than its master." He would bring this about by establishing an organization of genuine co-operative banks,
he said.

Anti-Saloon League on Crabbe.

Columbus, Oct. 17.—The American Issue, Anti-Saloon league organ, says there has been no break between the league and Attorney General Crabbe over the ruling against so-called card deputies in the state prohibition department. It adds: "The American Issue criticized the attorney general, not for his opinion, but for the manner in which it was given." Whether the attorney general was right is for the court decide. His opinion still stands." Crabbe is pronounced satisfactorily dry. Concerning Thomas H.
Morrow, Crabbe's opponent, the Issue says that as federal district attorney he made a good record, "especially in the enforcement of dry laws."

Bribery Alleged.

Akron, O., Oct. 17.—Ten new indictments were returned against T. E.
McShaffrey, contractor; former County Surveyor Jack Weaver and Paul Kelly, formerly McShaffrey's road superintendent, all three of whom were already under indictment for fraud in connection with the building of county roads. The new indictments charge Weaver with accepting bribes and McShaffrey and Kelly with giving bribes.

Naval Men Drowned.

Norfolk, Va., Oct. 17.—A naval officer and an enlisted man attached to the Hampton Roads naval base were drowned here when an automobile in which they were riding crashed into the Elizabeth river. The dead are:
Lieutenant W. B. Buchanan, 34, of Indiana, and Rudolph Leckner, a seaman.

TWO WOMEN SLAIN

Hospital, Held by Police.

daughter, Sophie, 21, were killed and Irvine Templeton fatally wounded in a shooting affray in an attorney's office here. The shooting took place during the settlement of an estate.
Martin Warren, said by police to have been released from the state hospital recently, was arrested immediately after the shooting, charged with the double slaying. Warren, witnesses said, entered the office with two drawn revolvers and started shooting.
It is said that Warren was obsessed with the idea that his estate was being dissipated by court costs.

Frocks for Girls Attending School

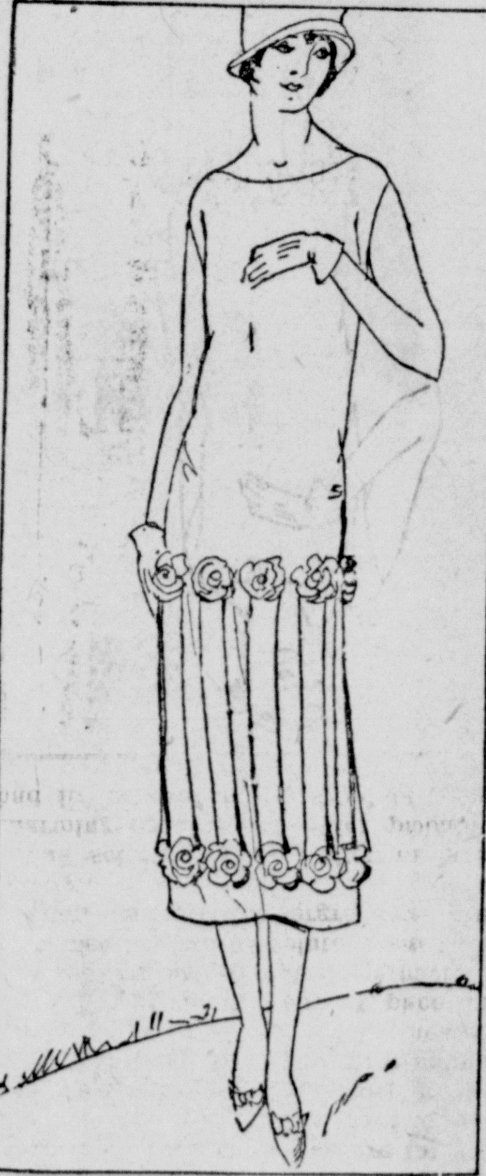

Simple Costumes Favored for Teas and Parties on Campus.

There is a genuine and delightful informality about the clothes of the college girl on her own campus that is apparent nowhere else, notes a fashion writer in the New York Herald-Tribune. Which does not mean that the fair undergraduate is oblivious to the changings of the mode, but rather that her interpretations of the latest quirks of fashion are more liberal than orthodox.

The only specialized problem about the undergraduate's dress concerns her costumes which are to be worn for intracollege occasions. These are divided into two categories, the first and least important of which is the recitation outfit. This should be simple, substantial and unostentatious.
Under the same classification come the athletic costumes, which will vary according to the sports and outdoor activities which prevail at the different colleges. If the new student is not thoroughly informed on these matters, it is advisable to procure this information from a member of one of the upper classes or the dean, after which the selection of suitable dresses, sweaters and the like becomes a simple matter.

The real problem of college dress,
however, has to do with the clothes which are to be worn at the intramural functions, such as the freshman reception, the junior tea and similar affairs, which belong strictly to the college proper and at which no outsider dare intrude. These are not social affairs—indeed, it is hard to define them, they have an atmosphere so entirely their own. The fashionable frocks of the daisies or the theater would be obviously out of place in this picture, and yet lively, attractive costumes are an absolutely essential setting, as any undergraduate can testify.

The solution of this dilemma is a charming compromise which probably had its genesis in the mind of some frugal junior. It is to wear the light, simpler clothes at all college activities which take place within the boundaries of the campus. These costumes may also be appropriately worn for outside informal affairs during the first weeks of the winter semester. They answer a double purpose. Not only do they endow the intracollege entertainments at the university with the necessary unpretensious charm, but they also provide an economical outlet for the late summer clothes of the undergraduate.

A typical jeune fille model which could be attractively worn by freshman or sophomore is the beautifully simple dress of white crepe satin trimmed with flower-like rosettes of fringed silk. A sort of tablier, or overskirt, is made of three bands of the crepe satin and is attached to the dress by means of these roses. Each band ends in a flower motif. The effect is one of exquisite simplicity.

To Suit the Gown

The well-dressed woman of today adapts her underwear carefully to the prevailing style of gown. With the present fancy for the slim and slender in outline, points to be avoided in underwear are: Gathering strings at the waistline, stiff outstanding fabrics (like taffetas), over-decoration of any kind, such as ruffles, flounces, elaborate lace trims, tucks, anything which will cause a bunchiness to outer wear, unless the tiniest pin tuckings.

In White and Black

Though black lingerie has not absolutely returned, it is coming back little by little. For instance, some of the new underthings are in white georgette with deep yokes of black chan-dilly lace.
